Notes:

1. The readers should approach and leave the altar together.
2. As a general rule, the first named should read the first reading and lead the psalm and the second named read the second reading and lead the alleluia.
3. Readers should find out before mass from Ian or the lead musician whether the psalm and alleluia are to be sung. If the alleluia is to be read start reading it and immediately leave the altar. If it is to be sung leave the altar as soon as the choir starts to sing.
4. They should also agree before mass which of them will lead the bidding prayers.
5. Where there are alternative readings please check with Father before mass which of them are to be read.
6. One of the readers should also lead the Communion Antiphon (they need not leave their seat for this) as the priest is giving communion to the Eucharist Ministers.
7. Please contact another reader should you be unavailable to read on your allocated date. Substitute readers should liaise with their fellow readers before mass.

Thank you.

Godfrey Chesshire
